

FAL AND VOTERS

(Presidential Decree n. 361/1957, articles 116 and 117 - Law n. 241/1990 and n. 81/1993)

- For train travel (by bus only for places not served by trains), voters can benefit from the following special conditions and fare concessions:
 - to each passenger - voter departing from locations served by FAL s.r.l. a nominative double return ticket mod. will be issued, with validity limited to the company relationship and upon presentation of the electoral card. F 201 at a price reduced by 60% on the total cost of two single journeys at the ordinary fare;
 - the outward journey must begin in a location served by FAL s.r.l. while the return journey must be carried out on the reverse route; the period of use of the special ticket is set at 20 days starting, for the outward journey, from the tenth day prior to the start of voting inclusive, while, for the return journey, until midnight of the tenth day following the end of the vote excluded;
 - the voter has the right, if double consultation is envisaged, to participate in one of the two votes; no extension of validity is foreseen for the traveller who, after having participated in the first round of consultation, intends to remain in the locations of the polling station until the subsequent voting operations are completed;
 - tickets must be validated before starting both the outward and return journey; in case of absence or closing of the ticket office, the endorsement must be requested from the control/verification staff;
 - they must be clearly transcribed on the travel ticket and the relevant stub:

a) the number of the electoral card

b) the name and surname of the voter

c) the term "voter"

d) the period of use of 20 days

e) the start and end dates of the period of use

f) the Region in which the consultation takes place

- tickets must not be issued when it is foreseeable that the voter will not be able to reach the polling station in time to participate in the election. In any case, the outward journey must be completed within the hour preceding the final closing of the polls, while the return journey cannot begin before the hour following the opening of the polls;
- for the return journey the voter must demonstrate participation in the vote which is certified on the electoral card, by affixing, by a scrutineer, the date of the voting operation and the polling station stamp; in the case of electoral cards on computer support, the voter, for the return journey, must be in possession of a specific declaration issued by the president of the polling station;
- the aforementioned provisions are also valid in the case of a possible runoff.

